

A Worthwhile Battle

Evil, beyond imagining;
A battle never won,
In a war without end.

An organ, half a pair
Bonded by love
He never knew.

His love drove him,
No matter the cost:
He chose to fight.

Allies, friends, family;
A piece of his heart,
Another's soul.

Empowered by love,
Tied together,
Torn apart.

A hope that shone bright.
He stood with old friends,
Scarred but victorious,

Surrounded by death,
Unbearable sacrifice, for
A cause worth the fight.
